

ABOUT THE AREA SURROUNDING THE CIJ

The CIJ Investigative Journalism Conference will take place 4-6 July at:

Goldsmiths, University of London.
New Academic Building,
Lewisham Way
New Cross
SE14 6NW

New Cross is in South East London situated 15 minutes by train from Central London.

New Cross and New Cross Gate are the nearest stations, both a five minute walk from the CIJ. Both stations are served by the London Overground Network and National Rail trains.

Deptford Bridge is the nearest DLR station.

Various buses stop near the university; 21, 36, 53, 136, 171, 172, 177, 225, 321, 343, 436 and 453.

If you are coming by car, please note that only people with mobility difficulties will have access to the University's parking space. It is possible to park on the streets nearby.

Where to eat?

Max 10-15 min walk away

The New Cross House (316 New Cross Rd): A new pub that serves pizza, traditional pub food, burgers and salad as well as a variety of vegetarian dishes. Opens at 12.

The London Particular (399 New Cross Rd): Breakfast joint, cafe, lunch, dinner and bar by night. They serve classic English dishes with a modern twist. Open Fri and Sat 10am ~ 10pm. Sun 10am ~ 4.30pm

Chinwag (21 Lewisham Way): a breakfast cafe and restaurant serving homemade burgers.

Brockley Market (Lewisham Way): It's cheaper and less busy than Borough Market, but with a selection of street food. Open only Sat 10-14.

Big Red Pizza (30 Deptford Church Street): A pizza restaurant in an unused bus. 15 minute walk from CIJ.

Drinks in the Evening

New Cross Inn (323 New Cross Rd): Casual bar with live music

The Hobgoblin (272 New Cross Rd): A cheap pub with a beer garden

New Cross House (316 New Cross Rd): Gastro pub

Things to Do

Lewisham Art House (140 Lewisham Way) Free gallery to see intriguing exhibitions from local artists.

The London Theatre (443 New Cross Road)

Food Shopping:

The Allotment (318 New Cross Rd) Fresh fruit and veg shop selling local produce; organic and gluten-free pasta, wild sumac, chocolate with chilli and lime.